

I have enjoyed the solace of not being bothered by telemarketers. I feel that overturning this law infringes upon my right of privacy and my right to choose. Overturning this law would be a great injustice.